

Learning Menus: A Model for Proposing Activities and Different Learning Methods

Instructions for Teachers:

Below is a platform for presenting the variety of activities and learning methods that are included in the learning process known as “Learning Menus”. You can print the tool and design it however you would like.

It is worth noting that each activity provides a different way to learn and refers to different aspects of the learning material.

It is also worthwhile to direct students to choose a diverse group of activities and the activities should incorporate a significant portion of material, such as a full unit or section of information.

Learning Menus: A Model for Proposing Activities and Different Learning Methods

Here are suggestions for a number of learning methods in order to learn about the topic of:
 Choose three options in addition to the required activity.

1. Individual Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

2. Individual Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

3. Group Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

4. Creative Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

5. Start Here: Required Activity

6. Online Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

7. Research-based Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

8. Guided Teacher Activity

Activity Title:

Short Description:

9. Independent Proposal for a Learning Method

Activity Title:

Short Description: